

Shu-Wen Lin

Shu-Wen Lin currently serves as Research Fellow for Digital Preservation at National Library of Medicine. She received her MA from the Moving Image Archiving and Preservation program at New York University in 2016. Prior to and following NYU, Shu-Wen gained experience while working at M+ Museum for Visual Culture, the Museum of Modern Art (New York), the Stanford University Libraries, the New York Public Library, Sterling Ruby Studio, Cai Guo-Qiang studio, and Hallwalls Contemporary Art Center.